The "Highest Number Previously Paid For" is the highest number of claims for which a fee has been paid for an amendment to a patent application. This fee is paid when an amendment is filed and is based on the number of claims in the amendment that are not already in the application. The fee is not paid if the amendment is a correction of a clerical error or if the amendment is a correction of a mistake in the drawing. The fee is also not paid if the amendment is a correction of a mistake in the specification or if the amendment is a correction of a mistake in the claims. The fee is also not paid if the amendment is a correction of a mistake in the abstract or if the amendment is a correction of a mistake in the title. The fee is also not paid if the amendment is a correction of a mistake in the inventor's name or if the amendment is a correction of a mistake in the inventor's address. The fee is also not paid if the amendment is a correction of a mistake in the inventor's country of origin or if the amendment is a correction of a mistake in the inventor's date of birth. The fee is also not paid if the amendment is a correction of a mistake in the inventor's date of death or if the amendment is a correction of a mistake in the inventor's date of filing. The fee is also not paid if the amendment is a correction of a mistake in the inventor's date of invention or if the amendment is a correction of a mistake in the inventor's date of conception. The fee is also not paid if the amendment is a correction of a mistake in the inventor's date of reduction to practice or if the amendment is a correction of a mistake in the inventor's date of public use. The fee is also not paid if the amendment is a correction of a mistake in the inventor's date of sale or if the amendment is a correction of a mistake in the inventor's date of offer for sale. The fee is also not paid if the amendment is a correction of a mistake in the inventor's date of first use or if the amendment is a correction of a mistake in the inventor's date of first sale. The fee is also not paid if the amendment is a correction of a mistake in the inventor's date of first offer for sale or if the amendment is a correction of a mistake in the inventor's date of first use or sale. The fee is also not paid if the amendment is a correction of a mistake in the inventor's date of first invention or if the amendment is a correction of a mistake in the inventor's date of first conception or first reduction to practice or first public use or first sale or first offer for sale or first use or sale.
